

BECSA encourages companies to allow their information protection specialists to join the association so that the association can become a voice for professionals in this important field.

BECSA membership is open to anyone concerned with, or holding responsibility for the protection of sensitive information, trade secrets, and other intellectual assets in the South African private sector.

BECSA members comprise ethical individuals who uphold the highest standard of professionalism.

The annual membership fee is R 1 675.00 per person.

Click here to register today,

Incomplete applications will not be accepted.

The steering committee will review each application and will inform the applicant of the outcome. Your personal information will not be released without your permission.

Please send application form to info@becsa.co.za or fax (012) 665-2177 or (086) 523-9232.